Tips and Etiquette

To prepare for Sunday Mass, arrive early to quiet your heart in prayer, observe the Eucharistic fast of one hour before Communion, and seek reconciliation through the Sacrament of Confession if in grave sin. Review the day's readings to enter more deeply into the mystery of Christ's sacrifice. Dress modestly to honor the sacred assembly, and silence distractions like phones to focus on the Lord. This preparation opens the soul to divine grace, as the Church teaches, allowing the Holy Sacrifice to transform us in union with Christ.

Matthew 25:35

Prayer for Vocations

O Lord, our proclaiming Shepherd, You announce Your mission of liberation.

Plant in our hearts a desire for vocations—priesthood, religious life, or marriage. Give us courage to proclaim Your word with bold spirits. Guide us to the paths You have prepared with anointed hearts. Fill us with zeal to set captives free, purity to reflect Your anointing, and humility to fulfill Your scriptures. May we, through faithful proclamation, answer Your call, lead others to Your freedom, and find joy in serving You eternally. Amen.

“Fishers of Men”

Last week, I saw a fisherman mend his nets by the lake, his steady work a testament to patience and purpose. This scene echoed today's Gospel, where Jesus walks by the Sea of Galilee, calling Simon and Andrew, then James and John, to leave their nets and follow him as “fishers of men” (Matthew 4:18-22). The Catechism teaches, “Jesus calls his disciples to follow him... and to share his mission” (CCC 787), inviting ordinary lives into divine work. That fisherman's rhythm felt like God's patient pursuit.

I recall my own reluctance, clinging to familiar routines when change beckoned, only to find freedom in letting go. The Catechism adds, “Jesus' public life allows everyone to come to know him” (CCC 541), as he preaches repentance and the kingdom in Galilee. The disciples' immediate response reminded me: calls demand trust. That mending net taught me discipleship reshapes us for greater catch.

In our ordinary time, let us heed Jesus' voice. May prayer and surrender open us to his mission, transforming our labors into eternal harvest.
